Act - The Madras Probation of Offenders Act - Authorising the Inspector General of Prisons as the appointing authority for the posts of District Probation Officers.

In G.O.No.1352, Home, dated 30-4-1946 the Government ordered that the D.P.Os. should be included in the Madras Jail Subordinate Service and specified as appointing authority the Inspector General of Prisons or some subordinate authority authorized by him in this behalf. The fact was overlooked that under section 9 (1) (a) of the Madras Probation of Offenders Act, 1936, all appointments have to be made by Government. It therefore became necessary to amend that section so as to enable a person authorised by Government, to appoint District Probation Officers; and also to validate all appointments already made by a person so authorised, namely, the Inspector General of Prisons. The M.P.O. Act has since been suitably amended and the Amendment Act, was published in English as Madras Act XXIX of 1947 in Part IV-B of the Fort St. George Gazette dated 23rd December 1947.

2. Under Section 9 (1) (a) of the M.P.O. Act as amended, the Govt. may authorise a person to be the appointing authority in respect of Probation Officers. It is the intention that the I.G. of Prisons should be so authorised. A draft order is submitted for approval. Legal may see before issue.
